PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I am a seasoned software developer with over 6 years of expertise in website design, development, and product design. Proficient in object-oriented and user-centered design principles, I adhere to the DRY (Don't Repeat Yourself) and KISS (Keep It Simple, Stupid!) principles, ensuring that my code is both efficient and easily maintainable. I take pride in crafting user interfaces that seamlessly blend aesthetics with functionality. Adept at swiftly resolving technical issues to ensure smooth operations, I am confident in consistently delivering exceptional results that exceed expectations.
